Dear President DeGioia:

It has been sometime, but here I am again to advise you that a granddaughter – along with the many other possible applicants, is interested in visiting, and then probably will follow up with an application.

She, along with – who knows – perhaps thousands of other young people seeking a Grade A college education, our granddaughter, UID_0000056764316 daughter of my son FERPA/PII Redaction would appreciate an opportunity to visit your school, meet with the appropriate person(s) and have an official opportunity to walk around the campus and have the ability to discuss any concepts that would confirm what she feels she already knows about your great school ... providing of course, that still is the procedure you provide.

She, of course, is trying to see if she could follow in the footsteps of her [FERPA/PII Redaction] cousins and also Aunt [FERPA/PII Redaction], who, I believe, achieved some wonderful academic results as well during her Georgetown experience. [UID_0000056764316] may not provide the record set by her Aunt, but she is a goal oriented person, as her attached letter indicates.

This request is not a "formal" effort, just a "look-see" as a means to achieve a far better understanding of Georgetown. As far as I know, she has not asked her parents about "their" schools ... at this point anyway, but I suspect Georgetown will also become her #1 choice, of course, particularly because of her past scholastic efforts.

And whether or not one of your staff would accommodate such a visit, of course, please know, I am not requesting any "special" service, just a "usual" visit ... just whatever is the normal "want to see effort".

The young lady that is very interested is the daughter of my older son [FERPA/PII Redaction] ... or [FERPA/PII Redaction] as his grandmother preferred when greeting him. Attached is a copy of [UID_0000056764316] note to me that indicates her high level of interest – and scholastic background, which may help justify a visit by her, and possibly even an approval.

As for the "when", I'm sure, despite her Southern California location, her Father would be happy to accommodate about anytime that would best serve your "usual" date and time availability procedure.

Anyway, hopefully her academic record to date would fulfill Georgetown's requirements from among the avalanche of "requests" that you receive.

Hope this note also finds you in good health and spirits and does not, in this case, provoke too much of a "not again" reaction!!! And yes, she will go all out to satisfy any date you may want to suggest for her required "visit".

All the best to you and your school as you face another year of that awful "yes", but only for some, annual experience.

[FERPA/PII Redaction]

P.S. My son [FERPA/PII Redaction] also told me that his daughter, [UID_0000056764316] did have an appointment set up for [REDACTED] but, of course, that was cancelled due to the [REDACTED] avalanche ... and that appointment was accomplished without my involvement via your office, but I thought that perhaps a note from me possibly would assist.

Dear Pop Pop,

I'm excited to tell you about my growing interest in attending Georgetown. For a long time, I've known that it has an excellent reputation, and my interest has grown as I have further researched the school.

Would you please ask those you know at Georgetown if I could visit campus at the earliest possible date to learn more about this amazing school?

I love the [Redacted] I'm in with [Redacted] Who knows how many applications they received for this national program, yet I was one of only twenty American high school students accepted! We meet online each Thursday evening, and we've discussed topics like the [Redacted]

[Redacted] One of my classmates is from London; another is from Uzbekistan.

My mom's heritage, my seven years of studying [Redacted] rich history, and an opportunity to see it through other people's eyes have been really interesting. I'll finish the program with a final paper that will be distributed to my classmates and other people associated with the [Redacted] and [Redacted] on [Redacted] I'm not letting this interfere with my regular high school work, but doing the work after school ends.

This [Redacted] helps me understand more about Georgetown's international studies excellence. I now understand how rewarding it is to engage in illuminating discussions with like-minded peers, and I know I could continue thoughtful discussions with motivated classmates while at Georgetown.

My Georgetown campus tour was canceled last [Redacted] I'm hopeful that I could visit this fall and learn more about Georgetown's Walsh School of Foreign Service, as well as majors at Georgetown College, like Anthropology and History.

I've attached some details of my resume. I'm proud to tell you that I hold a GPA of [Redacted] and a weighted GPA of [Redacted] all [Redacted] including [Redacted] and [Redacted] This year, my classes include [Redacted]

[Redacted] I'm a three-year starter on our Varsity Volleyball team, a yearbook editor, a [Redacted] and a [Redacted] at my high school. I think I can succeed within the Georgetown arena!

Love,
